Read the introduction then plan and write an essay in response to the question below. Use the essay as a chance to show how clearly and effectively you can express and develop ideas. Present your thoughts logically and precisely. Include evidence or examples to support your point of view. A plain and natural writing style is recommended. The number of words is up to you, but quantity is less important than quality.

You may write notes on this question paper, but write your essay on the separate answer sheet. Write neatly, because handwriting that's hard or impossible to read will decrease your score.

If you finish in less than 40 minutes, check your work.

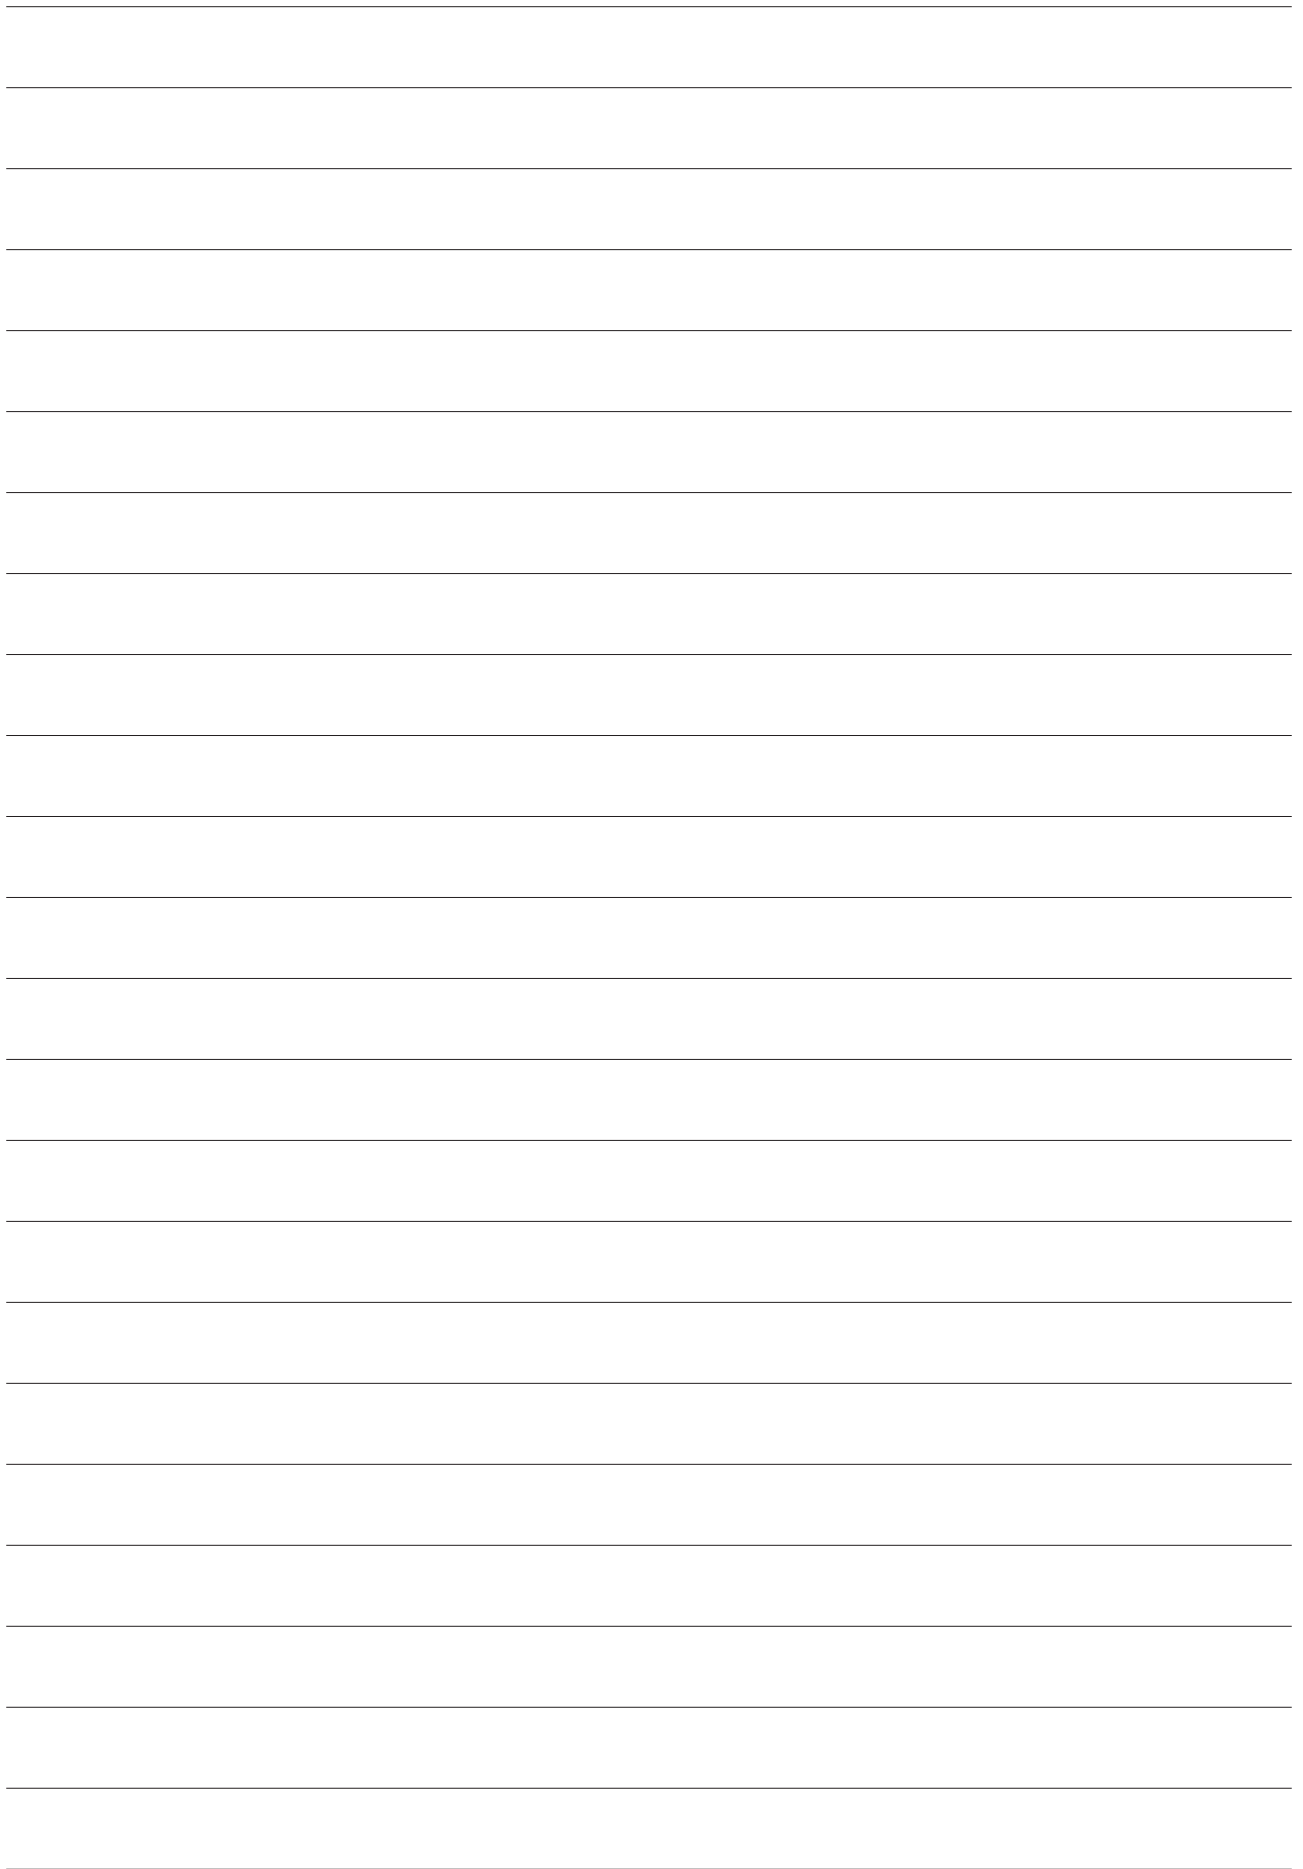

Introduction:

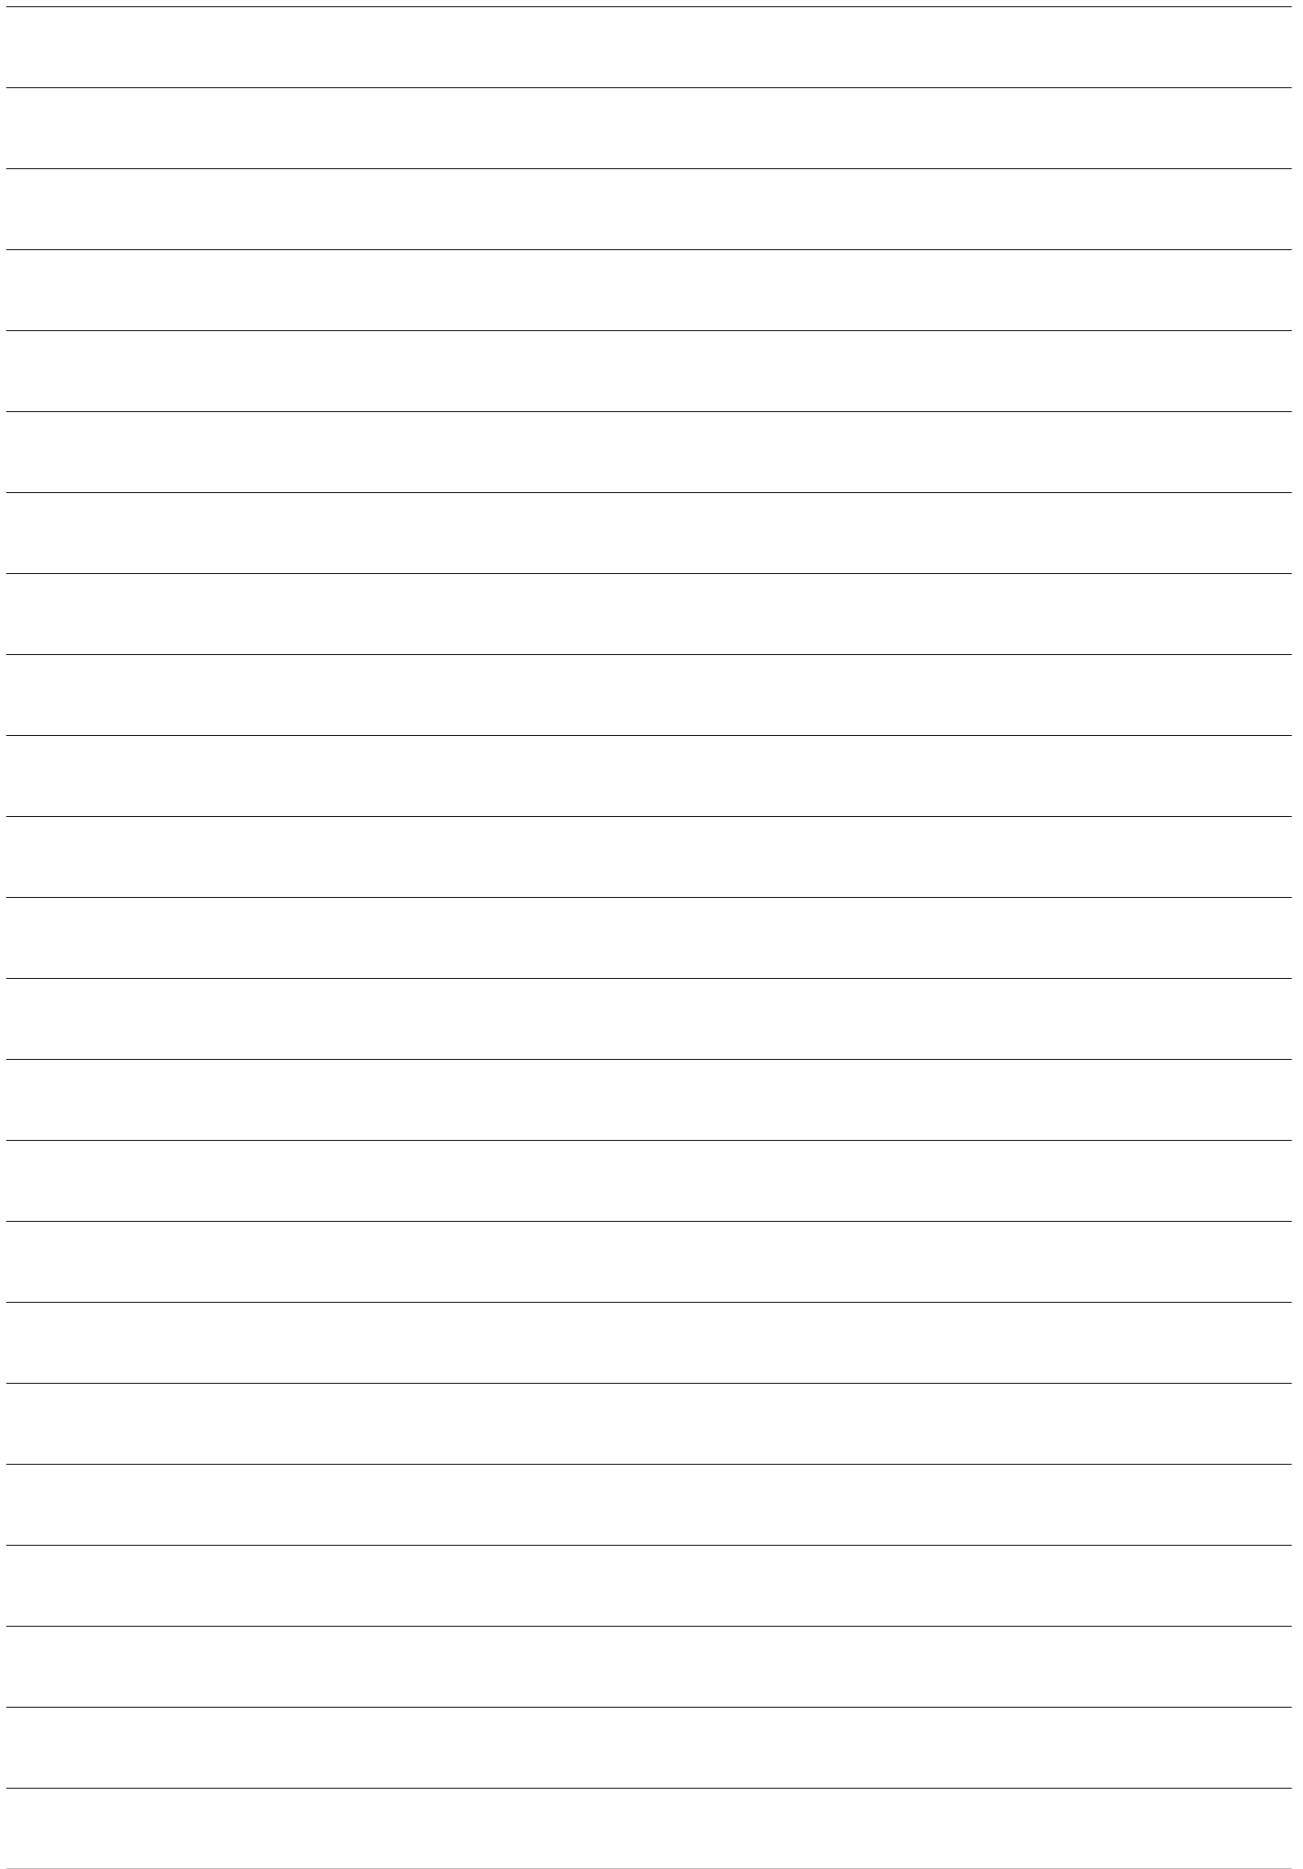

Neuroscientist Sam Harris argues that our lives will be simpler and better if we stop lying to each other. He dreams of a lie-free world. However, not everyone is convinced. Can you imagine a world where no-one could ever say anything false? What would it be like?

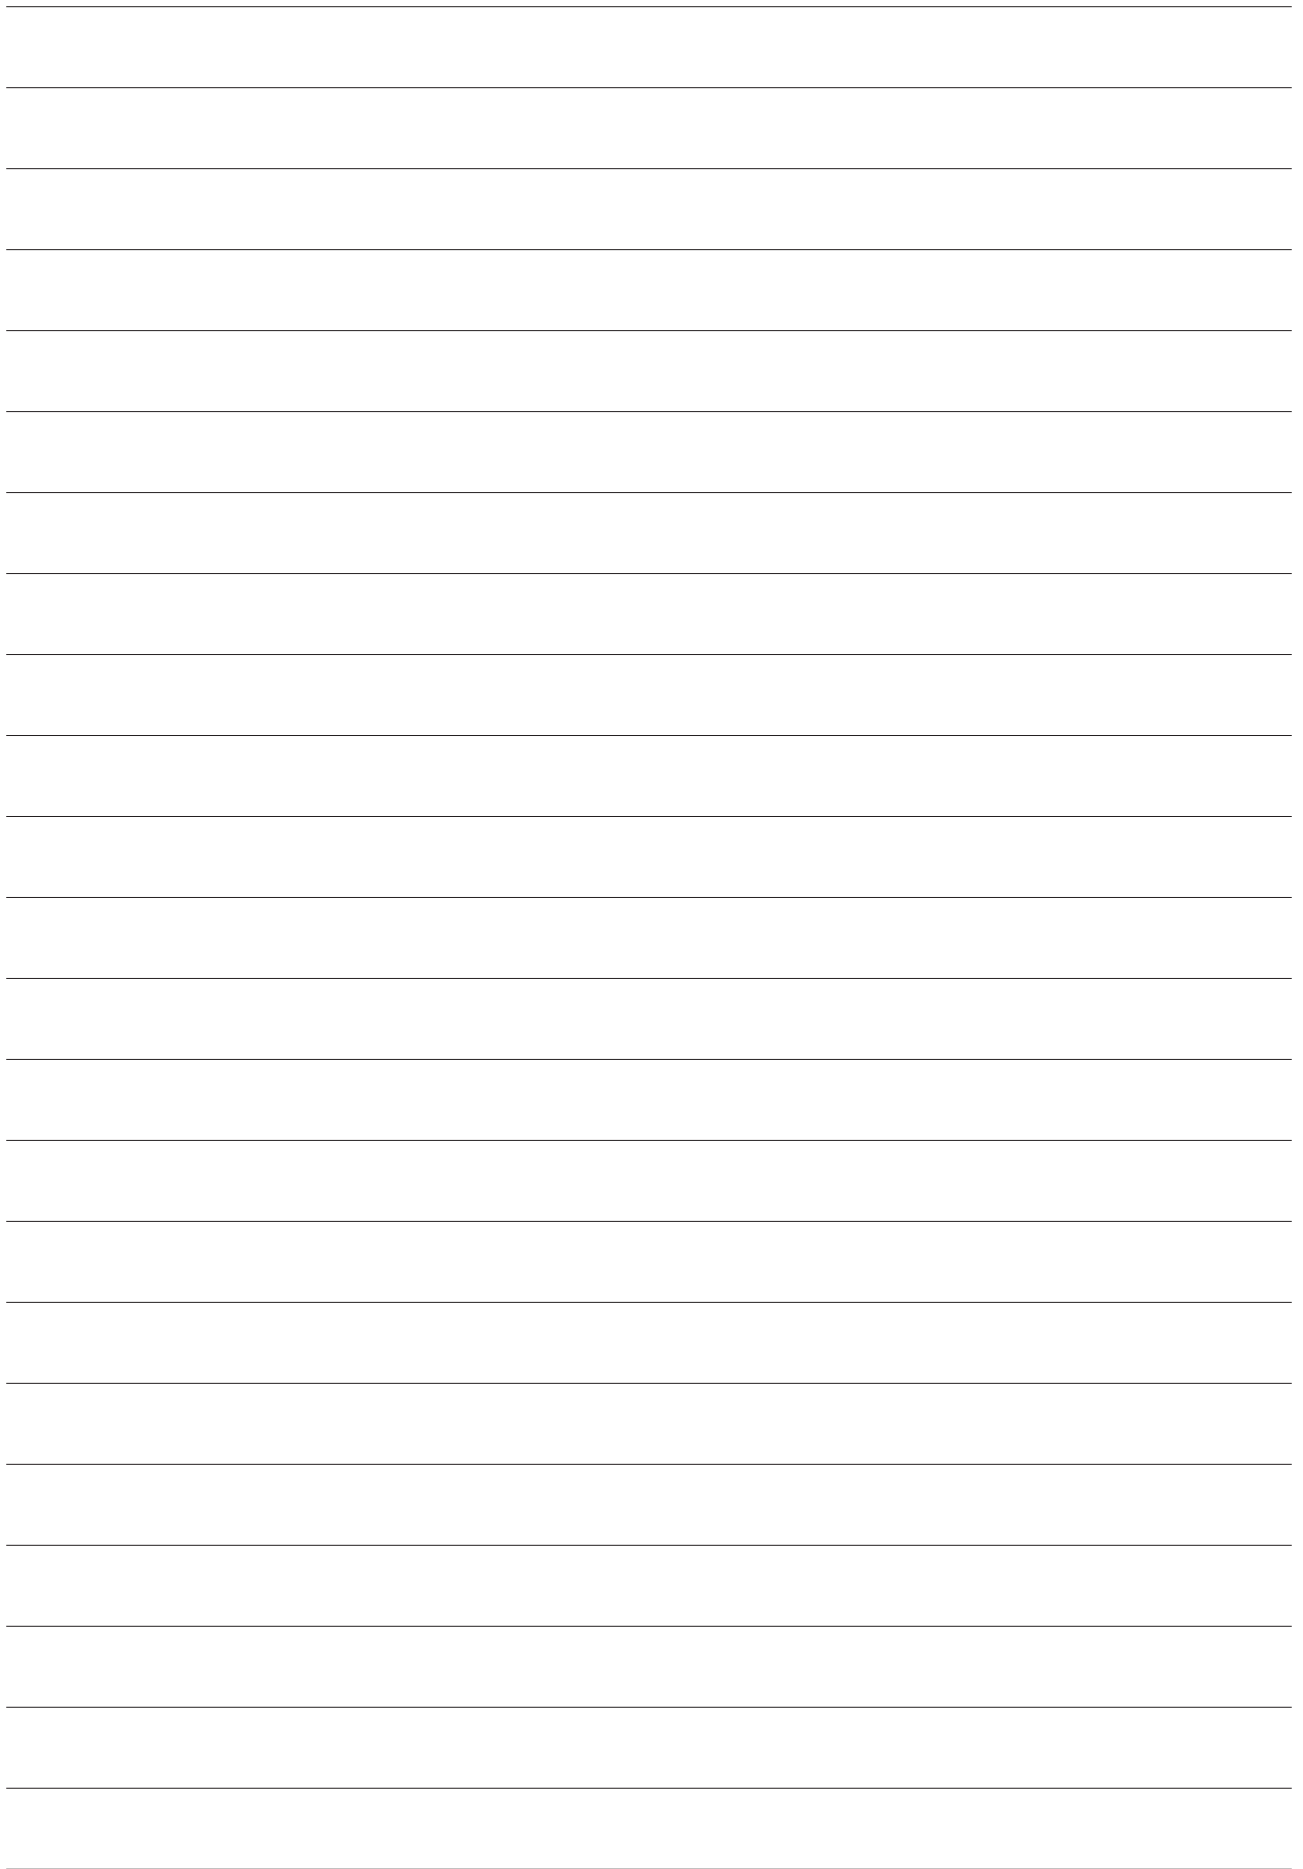

Essay Question:

'If nobody could ever speak a falsehood, society would descend into chaos.'
To what extent do you agree with this statement?

Write a well-structured essay defending your position.

NOTE: You can use this paper for planning.
